Due to the increased volume of business generated during busy seasons, we recommend you book your event at your earliest convenience. Until we have a deposit to hold your date, your event will not be entered into our book as a confirmed event. We will continue to book other events on that date until we reach capacity. To ensure all events are given proper attention, My Chef reserves the right to close-out certain days.

Your event is very important to us and to ensure proper staffing and execution, your menu must be finalized two weeks before the event date. For proper planning, final guest count must be received seven days prior to your event.

We welcome the opportunity to serve you!
